[FAQ] Individuals who are not required for K-ETA

Q. I am a multiple citizenship holder holding both a Korean passport and a U.S. passport. Do I need to apply for K-ETA?

In principle, multiple citizenship holders need to present their Korean passports for immigration inspection when they enter or exit the Republic of Korea. If so, they do not need to apply for K-ETA.

A. And at the airline counter, you need to present both passports to get your boarding pass. However, the airline might reject to issue the boarding pass for not having a valid K-ETA if there is any discrepancy in personal information written on the passport bio page (such as name or date of birth) between the Korean passport and U.S. passport or for any other reasons. So, please check this matter with the airline in advance.

If you do not have a valid Korean passport, please apply for or renew your passport at a diplomatic mission of the Republic of Korea and enter the country with it. However, if you are not able to get it due to inevitable situations such as COVID-19, you need to apply for K-ETA and enter the country with your U.S. passport.

Q. I am a member of the United States Forces Korea (USFK). Do I need to get a K-ETA?

A. No. According to the 'Agreement under Article IV of the Mutual Defense Treaty between the United States of America and the Republic of Korea, regarding Facilities and Areas and the Status of United States Armed Forces in the Republic of Korea (SOFA),' members of the United States Armed Forces (USFK service members) do not need to get a K-ETA. Note that you will need to present your DOD ID card instead of your passport upon check-in for the issuance of your boarding pass.

Q. Do flight or ship crew members need to get a K-ETA?

A. When a flight or ship crew member is entering the Republic of Korea as a crew member, that person does not need to get a K-ETA.

Q. I have a valid ABTC. Do I need to get a K-ETA?

A. No. Valid ABTC holders will be able to receive their boarding pass without a K-ETA.

Q. I want to travel to Jeju Island. Do I need to get a K-ETA?

A. No. Transfer/transit passengers who are not entering Korea do not need to get a K-ETA.

Q. I am a transfer passenger, but I need to enter the Republic of Korea to recheck my luggage. In this case, am I eligible for a K-ETA exemption?

Q. I am from a K-ETA-required country, but I am a registered foreign resident in Korea. Do I need to get a K-ETA?
